

Make a great hire with Randstad Office & Administration

You needed a new hire yesterday. But the thought of fine-tuning your job description, reading through countless resumes, deciding which ones are relevant and screening multiple candidates to find just the right person seems overwhelming and exhausting. Who has time for all that? We do, because it's our area of expertise.

At Randstad, we see more hiring cycles in one week than many companies see in a year. Whether you need help for a specific project or a long-term employee to manage the office, we have the insight and extensive talent network to help you find the perfect match.

But don't take our word for it. See what some of our clients have to say:

// Our staffing consultants understand what our needs are and provide candidates who fit those needs on the first attempt. Frequent communication from Randstad ensures the employees placed with us are performing as expected."

- Professional services company, Southeast

// My Randstad account team is the definition of a true partner. They are always willing to do whatever it takes to meet our ever-changing business needs. I recommend them to anyone who asks me about our hiring agency."

- American multinational manufacturer, Midwest

// Since transitioning to Randstad from another staffing provider, our turnover rates have greatly reduced, and the number of associates we bring over to permanent positions from Randstad is much greater than with previous staffing companies."

- Healthcare company, Mid-Atlantic

// The Randstad staff are knowledgeable about my needs and only refer the most qualified candidates. They are easy to work with and very approachable. They demonstrate the feeling of teamwork and look out for my best interest."

- Chain retailer, national

// We have used Randstad for some years now and have always had great success with their efforts in getting us the right candidate for our situation. Our rep and the team have always been thorough, professional, friendly and helpful in meeting our goals."

- Commercial real estate company, Mid-Atlantic

A best-fit staffing partner

When searching for a staffing partner to help you meet your goals, keep these qualities in mind:

- Specialization and experience that align with your industry and company objectives
- A willingness to learn your day-to-day operations and what career paths and growth opportunities may be available within your company
- A strategy for recruiting and screening candidates to find the right match for you
- A satisfaction guarantee — replacement of candidates who aren't a good fit

*Testimonials provided by actual Randstad clients in 2016. Minor revisions may have been made to improve readability; no substantive changes have been made.

